BAL Green Screed Tile Adhesive for conservatory floors

There's no doubting that tiled floors are the most practical finish for new conservatory floors. But waiting for the concrete or screed base to cure can add weeks to the project.

No need! Instead of the 6 week minimum waiting time for new concrete to dry – or 3 weeks for new screed – you can actually get on with the tiling sooner than you'd think.

Trust market-leaders BAL to have the right answer. Green Screed is specially formulated to let tiling start long before British Standards normally dictate:

- after only 7 days on new cement
- after just 24 hours on new screed

So a conservatory build can proceed to completion virtually uninterrupted. What's more, you can completely depend on the quality of the result.
